

GGA GOOD GOVERNANCE AFRICA NPC (“GGA”)
COMMENT AND MODERATION POLICY – VERSION MAY 2022

1. GGA invites people to post comments.
2. All comments made are subject to this moderation policy.

INDEMNITY

3. GGA, as well as the site's administrators, authors, contributors and editors, are not liable for any comments expressed. By leaving a comment you expressly agree to be solely responsible for its content and to hold GGA, its subsidiaries, and representatives harmless from any and all repercussions, damages or liabilities.

COMPLAINTS AND VIOLATIONS

4. GGA will make every attempt to moderate all comments. Should you feel that a comment is offensive or in violation of this policy please report it to GGA by emailing info@gga.org.
5. The commenting rights of anyone who violates the Comment and Moderation Policy may be withdrawn in the future.

RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

6. GGA, in its sole discretion, reserves the right to edit, move or delete comments that contain obscene or inappropriate language, a lack of respect for other commenters, URLs that return errors, unrelated links, invalid email addresses, signatures longer than two lines, remarks that do not add to the discourse, remarks that are not relevant to the topic or any remarks or comments that may be regarded as defamatory, hate speech, offensive or that violate the rights of any person or group of people.

7. GGA, their administrators, authors, contributors, and editors reserve the right to edit, mark as spam, delete or move any comment made.

PRIVACY

8. Email addresses are required in order to leave a comment, but they are neither shared nor published. GGA or the post author can use them to discreetly communicate with the commenter.
9. Should you wish to know the details of a commenter, you will be required to apply to GGA for the details of the commentor. GGA will request permission from the commenter to release his/her details. Should the commenter agree, their details will be released. Should they refuse, you will be advised accordingly and GGA will then only release the details in compliance with a court order.
